HIGHWAYMEN RAMPANT.

A WHITE PLAINS LAWYER KNOCKED UN-CONSCIOUS.

ATTACKED WITHIN A SHORT DISTANCE OF SEV

ERAL HOUSES-FRIGHTENED OFF BEFORE

As Wilson Brown, jr., a prominent lawyer of White Plains, was on his way home at 9 o'clock on Monday night Le was attacked by a highwayman in Hamilton-ave., one of the prominent streets of tack and knocked unconscious. He lay on the ground for some time, until a passerby picked him up and assisted him to his home. He was bleeding from a wound in the head.

As soon as Mr. Brown was taken home Doctors N. F. Curtis and H. E. Schmid were summoned and They found that he had been struck at the base of the neck, below the ear, The doctors do not think that his injury will result Yesterday Mr. Brown was resting easily and was able to tell of the assault. All that he could about the affair was that he was delayed at his office, near the Courthouse, until nearly 9 o'clock, containing legal papers which he intended to look over. He had turned into Hamilton-ave, not far from his home, when he was struck down. He says he did not see his assailant, as the night was dark. The highwayman, no doubt, became frightened when Mr. Brown fell. and ran away, taking with him the little satchel. The man in his haste to get away did not rob the pockets of his victim. Hamilton-ave, is one of the fashionable streets of White Plains, and the assault upon Mr. Brown was committed within 200 feet of five private houses. Just before Mr. Brown arrived at the spot where he was struck several persons passed by on their way to a reception. One of the persons passing along the avenue was George Foster. He saw a large man lottering near where Mr. Brown was assaulted. containing legal papers which he intended to look

HE SAYS HE WAS ROBBED OF $550. AN EX-ALDERMAN'S TALE OF AN EARLY MORN-NG ATTACK-THREATENED WITH DEATH

In the heart of Long Island City, at 1:40 o'clock yesterday morning, ex-Alderman Hugo Schmidt, of Sunnyside, was "held up" and robbed by three esperadoes, who, not content with robbing their victim's pockets of $550, deliberately tried to kill when they found that he offered resistance. The scene of the robbery is within a stone's throu of the Skillman-ave, crossing of the Long Island Railroad. A shrubbery borders the winding path that leads from Jackson-ave, to the railroad crossing. No better place could be found for the work The victim of the attack is a boss builder and centractor. Yesterday Schmidt drew $750 from the Queens County Bank to pay some bills. In the everal West Side liquor-stores. He reached Long Island City at 1:20 a. m., and got off a Steinway trolley car at Jackson and Skillman aves, to cut cross the lots to his home in the Sunnyside part Schmidt had not walked more than 300 feet when, near the North Shore railroad tracks, three men stopped him and asked him what time it was. He pulled out his watch to accommodate the strangers, but had hardly time to make answer when one of the trio dealt him a stunning blow on the head with some instrument. Schmidt fell to the ground and his pockets were robbed. The tallest of the men did the searching, while the other two threatened to kill the ex-Alderman if he made any outcry. They struck Schmidt a number of times in the face and body with their fists. In his inside waistcoat pocket Schmidt carried fifty ten dollar bills and one $50 bill. These the thleves took. He had $40 more in another pocket, which the thieves did not find. Then they examined his watch carefully, and finally returned it to him.

During the search Schmidt became unconscious.
When he recovered he was bleeding from the nose and the right side of his face was frightfully swollen. He managed to make his way with great difficulty down Jackson-ave, to the Second Precinct Police Station, where he related his experience. The sergeant at the desk turned out the reserves immediately, but no trace of the highwaymen could be found. The flagman at the Long Island Railroad crossing, about 200 feet from where Schmidt was "held up," reported that he saw the robbers cross the track and go in the direction of Blissville. It is the opinion of the police that the thieves were New-Yorkers who saw Schmidt display his roll of bills in some of the barrooms. His story is discredited by some of the people of Sunnyside, who assert that if he made any outery it would have certainly been heard by Officer Finch, who was on duty near the corner of Skillman and Jackson aves, about the time the robbery is said to have occurred.

INSURANCE COLLECTOR CUT AND ROBBED. Henry Staiger, a collector for the John Hancock Life Insurance Company, living at No. 173 Meekerave., Brooklyn, while passing along Monitor-st. between Hubert-st. and Meeker-ave., on his way home early yesterday morning, was "held up" by two highwaymen, who, he says, assaulted and robbed him. Staiger met Policeman Harrington, of Nineteenth Precinct, after the assault, and told him of the occurrence. He was bleeding from said, had been inflicted by his assailants. He had recognized the men as John Dooley, twenty-two years old, of No. 148 Meeker-ave., and Richard White, twenty-five years old, of No. 187 Devoe-st. Policeman Harrington ran through Monitor-st., and at Meeker-ave came upon the men, who were standing beneath a lamppost, examining the books and papers. Harrington had sprung upon them so and papers. Harrington had sprung upon them so suddenly that they had no time to escape. They were taken to the station and locked up, while an ambulance surgeon dressed Staiger's wounds. In the Ewen Street Police Court yesterday the prisoners denied the charge of highway robbery against them, and told Justice Watson that they had found Staiger lying on the sidewalk and the papers scattered about him. They had picked the papers up and walked away. Staiger declared that the prisoners had assaulted and robbed him when he refused to give them money for beer., Justice Watson held them in default of $1,500 bail for trial.

A WOMAN HIS VICTIM.

Mrs. Munn, an aged woman of this city, who I visiting at No. 233 Garside-st., Newark, reported to the police yesterday that she was the victim of a highway robbery and assault on Monday. While returning late in the afternoon with her daughter from a shopping tour she felt a tug at her satchel which contained about $25. She turned around in surprise and found a young man, dressed in a dark t do you want, sir?" said Mrs. Munn. The fellow made no reply, but continued to pull at the satchel with increasing violence. Then he struck her a terrific blow in the face, felling her to the sidewalk. She lay there a moment, half-stunned, and when she got up the footpad was gone. The police have no clew.

DETRING'S ERRAND TO JAPAN

WHY HIS MISSION PROVED SUCH A COM-

IT FAILED CHIEFLY BECAUSE AMERICAN MIN

PLETE FIASCO.

Tokio, Dec 7.-China's latest attempt to put at is simply this: A steamer with a Chinese crew and bearing a Chinese name, flying the German flag, armissioner of Customs in Tien-Tsin, and others. Mr. Detring has been for years Viceroy Li Hung Chang's trusted adviser on foreign affairs, and his arrival had been heralded by telegrams from Europe. Everybody knew that Mr. Detring came on som kind of peace-making mission, and that he repre-sented Li Hung Chang, if not the Chinese Govern official aspect in the eyes of the Japanese Nation. Instantly the press raised a chorus of indignation and asked: "Is this a new exhibition of Chinese Japan, having declined the mediation of European will consent to confer with a foreign employe of the Chinese Government, the Commissioner of Cus-toms? Let her learn at once and finally that until she sends a duly accredited envoy of high rank to make unconditional surrender and to accept Japan's Suddenly it was learned that the vessel had teamed away from the shores of Japan, earrying this nondescript envoy home to China; that the Japanese Premier had declined to meet Mr. Detring, and that the mission had been a complete flasco The Nation breathed again. Still, from the mutter ings of the Tokio journals, it was easy to infer that prospects of peace had not been improved by the incident; yet the mission was not by any means a total failure. Skilful manipulation enabled it to serve the useful purpose of conveying to China the assurance that Japan would never consent to formulate terms until she found herself confronted by a plenipotentiary qualified to accept or reject them finally. She cannot suspend her military operations, and each blow delivered augments the victor's title to ask and diminishes that of the vanquished incompatible with journeyings to and fro of private essengers carrying pour-parlers across a distance of a thousand miles.

The sequel of the story remains, however, to terms, all hope of peace must be dismissed."

be told. It was not altogether or even chiefly because of the Japanese Premier's refusal to sion left Kobe after a stay of only three days. The truth is that the United States had appeared upon the scene. But why? In the Treaty of 1858 was stipulated that if any other Nation acts unjustly or oppressively toward China, the United States will exert its good offices on being informed of the case to bring about an amicable arrange the United States is now mediating on the strength culty in perceiving how such a clause can be made applicable to the present crisis, for, though of this clause, and many people will also find difficulty in perceiving how such a clause can be made applicable to the present crisis, for, though China may consider herself "unjustly or oppressively" treated by Japan, the United States can scarcely indorse that view, as certainly it would seem to indorse it by implication did it consent to act under that cause.

There is, as may be supposed, another explanation. The United States Legations in Peking and Tokio are merely extending functions which devolved upon them at the beginning of the war, when it was agreed that they should assume charge of Japanese interests in China and Chinese interests in Apan respectively. Accordingly, a telegram suddenly reached Mr. Detring from China, informing him that as the American Legation in Peking had agreed to become the channel of communication, his mission had no longer any reason for existence. Hence he was already preparing to start when the hopelessness of his further stay in Japan became apparent.

Marshai Yamagata, commander-in-chief of the first Japanese army, is now on his way back from Manchuria to Hiroshima, his place on the field being taken by Lieutenant-General Nodzu, who is raised to the rank of marshai, in recognition of his brillant services. Yamagata's return means that the army he leaves will not, for the present, urdertake any important military operation. It will probably not go to Moukden, though that enterprise is not abandoned; it was never an essential feature of the programme. The capture of Moukden night hurt Chingse sentiment badly, but to march an army there in midwinter would involve efforts disproportionate to the seizure of a place pessessing no strategical value, lying beyond the confines of China proper. With the fall of Port Arthur and the occupation of the Liau-Tong peninsula, Japan finds herself in the possession of one of the keys of China proper. With the fall of Port Arthur and the occupation of the clauting terms of peace from the battlementr of Peking.

A CIRCULAR FROM THE DIRECTORS.

SEVERAL SCHEMES OF REORGANIZATION SUG-GESTED-NO MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS NECESSARY TO CARRY OUT

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 18.—The directors of the Dis-tilling and Cattle Feeding Company issued their statement to the stockholders of the company today. After calling attention to the efforts of the Board of Directors to take advantage of the increased tax lately enacted, the fact that their customers became restive and threatening at the failure to pay the tax on all of the product, and the embarrassing position in which the trust found itself, the circular continues:

failure to pay the tax on all of the product, and the embarrassing position in which the trust found itself, the circular continues:

It is difficult to estimate the amount of additional working capital that will be required. First, we will need at least $50,000 additional to operate the plants; second, it will require at least $1,00,000 additional capital to distribute our product in the Eastern territory; third, the amount required to cancel the leases of idle properties is difficult to estimate, but the money for that purpose must be provided, it being, of course, understood that any plan of reorganization implies that the stockholders elect such new directors as, in their judgment, will best serve their interests.

Plan i. Organize a new company under the laws of any State considered most suitable, with a capital stock of $19,500,000, $3,500,000 of which to be preferred 7 per cent stock, and $7,00,000 of common stock; the stockholders of the Distilling and Cattle-Feeding Company to subscribe for the preferred stock at the ratio of one share preferred stock for every ten shares of Distilling and Cattle-Feeding stock held, paying for the same $50 per share cash at the time organization of the new company is completed, and $50 per share to be payable in instalments at such times as required and called for by the directors; one share of the sounceribers of the preferred stock for five shares of Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company is completed, and $50 per share to be payable in instalments at such times as required and called for by the directors; one share of the common stock of the new company to be given to subscribers of the preferred stock for five shares of Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company can convey to it all the operating plants, and all the other property, real and personal, which can be utilized in connection with the proper conduct of the business, and the new company, in consideration of the enoveyance, can assume the payment of the $1,000,000 bonds outstanding, as well as the payment of othe ples, producing and distributing its goods at a minimum cost.

Your directors fully believe, with the removal of the embarrassments and encumbrances before enumerated, all competition can be successfully met and that we can maintain our supremacy in the trade. The authority given your directors at the last annual meeting of the stockholders would appear to be ample for them to proceed and carry out practically such reorganization as outlined above, if it became necessary by reason of the quo warranto suit. It therefore would not require a meeting of the stockholders for that purpose. If unanimous action of the stockholders cannot be obtained on any plan, the properties can be sold by order of the court, and the proceeds divided pro rata among the stockholders.

Plan 2. Substantially the same as Plan 1, excepting as to manner of subscribing for the preferred stock, namely, the stockholders of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company to subscribe for $2,00,00 of preferred stock at par, at the ratio of six shares preferred stock for each 100 shares of Distilling and Cattle Feeding stock held, the balance of the $1,40,00 preferred stock to be held as treasurer's atook.

Plan 1. Reduce the present capital stock to $10.

holders to have the preference in subscribing for the same), or, in other words, on payment for each share of stock an additional share be given.

The following financial statement is incorporated

•	Value of fire insurance 40,000 00 Cash in treasurer's hands 400 202 43 Cash in plants 265,732 36

and those deposited with the Central Trust Com-pany of New-York for guaranteeing the rebates above stated. The difference in surplus of $197.33744, as shown in present statement and the surplus as reported at the annual meeting in April last, has been chiefly caused by the shrinkage and expense on goods held and tax paid and in bond during the last eight months; also by reason of the general expense and repairs on plants and the expenses of the company with the houses closed for several months.
